

The Sideshow

An Event of Grand Proportions to connect the local art community AND downtown Dayton.

SATURDAY, JUNE 24TH, 7PM-1AM

In The Cannery at 520 East Third Street

You are in downtown Dayton. You enter an 8,000 square foot space in The Cannery. Begin your journey in the main gallery to view sculpture and 2D art while live music plays. Weave your way through large-scale environmental installations and be enveloped by each artist's view of the world. Stop at the main stage to enjoy a vaudeville act, watch a play, or be intrigued by performance art. Enter the screening room to sample video art. Mingle with performers in the crowd.

Guests will be bombarded with spectacle, sound, and vision. One evening buzzing with interaction, performance, visual stimuli, music, food, and drink.

The Concept

The Sideshow is a community-driven event. We are a diverse group of individuals who wish to express ourselves to the Dayton Metro Area. There will be no monetary gain from this endeavor. The gains will be found in personal growth and human connection. The show will be supported solely by the members of our community.

The Sideshow hopes to expose the burgeoning underground art scene and interconnect it with the more established art community. We will bring attention to downtown Dayton through a grand-scaled and highly public display of the art that is so ripe in this town. The event will be free of charge and open to as wide of a population as we can reach. The guests will be at least as diverse as the artists involved. June 24th will be a night to mingle as a city and witness creation through connection.

Who We Are...

"Since I work in several different mediums my main concept is to create that which can recreate itself and grow within the mind of the interpreter. The mind is a magnificent creation and should never be left idle. It is my hope that people will look deeper into what I create and analyze deeper than the things they see and hear." - Braille

"I create what i do in the hopes i can share how this heart beats, these hands feel, these eyes, see, and start a dialogue about it." - Jenn Breman

"I have created two children's television shows. One which ran on public access television and one that ran on a regional television station. The show was hosted by Gertrude Bird, my ostrich puppet and I. The show consisted of magic, interviews, a cooking segment and other fun stuff. Gertrude and I won The Hostess with the Mostest Clapper Award from WCTV (public access television station) in 2000." - Ferris Brown

"I have never attended college. I have shown paintings and sculpture in group shows for the past several years successfully throughout Ohio. However, I'm more interested in talking about nonsense instead of painting it, so now I'm talking. My first professional acting gig was portraying "Ace the Flying Air Bear" for Fox 45 Kids' Club in the early 90's. I have shaken hands with Ronald McDonald. I think I will challenge him to a fist fight. I am no longer an artist: I prefer the title 'Religious Nutcase'. It seems more honest." - Andy DeDominici

"The art which comes through me expresses many aspects of my mental, spiritual and physical world. I am a mathematician and physicist, currently studying at Ohio State University and a kinetic, visual and auditory artist studying at Renaissance faires, music festivals and circuses across the United States." - Adam Dipert

"I am a Fine Arts Major at Sinclair Community Collage right now, but I will have spent my whole life as a student of art. A student in the School of the Cosmos. My body is the uniform of Spaceship Earth." - Steve Emmons

"Painter, Writer, Catalyst for Creative Communities, Master Teacher, Slow Learner" - Patricia Kambitsch

"Hello. I am a photographer with an Associates Degree in that field. I am looking to explore more opportunities to develop my skills. I would for instance like to work again shooting behind the scenes still photography for movie sets." - Alisa Lawson

"I hale from huber hts, I enjoy staring at the sun and talking to myself." - Michael Officer

"By day I photograph over-commercialized items to make a living. By nite I try to capture true beauty and emotion with pixels to make my salvation." - Maggie Ottoson

"We are a two-man group that do what we do because this mucic we create happens naturally and the repercussions are that we feel passionate and wouldn't feel complete without it. Our appreciation and love for the vast amount of innovative and inspiring music has given us the ability to evolve, hone, and refine our own voice." - Phatts McNatt

"I graduated from Wright State University with my BFA. I received a scholarship while I attended there and participated in gallery exhibitions in WSUs Art Gallery and Student gallery. Ive also worked as an intern for DAI." - Heather Reid

"I have a basic belief in the decency and goodness of all people, all of them. People do bad things due to lack of community, due to a lack of connection with the people around them. My artwork is simply efforts to show my experiences, so that other people can see it and hopefully it will encourage them to share themselves with other people." - Jim Tarjeft

"An artist who's made photos, videos, installations and 9,000 sand bags, he got an MFA in 2002 and visited his 34th country last year. He's hangin' in Italy and bringing Robin Deacon (and London and Berlin) to Dayton and the Live Art Network is gonna stream live art on the internet this October. He teaches art at Sinclair." - leigh waltz

"My photography to me means travel, going places and seeing new things. I take pictures to capture the places I've been and the feelings I've had being there. My pictures allow me to forever relive my life through images and allow me to forever remember how it felt to be there when I took the picture. I want people to look at my images and be able to sense the same emotion I felt when I took them. This is why I take pictures." - Natalie Wells

"I am an Electrical Engineer by training. I am a Dancer by birth. I am now Whatever I create. By Design. The Sideshow is my debut as a Life Artist." - Laurana Wong
